Frozen Tears By Karen Arnold

The gay merriment of frozen tears
Coaxes heated humor from giggling lips.
Blues bursting into snide remarks
As idiocy is as forgotten as greenhouse gases in an ecologis

Dance the sliding dance on man created ice.
Beckon or wave above frozen waters to a passing ice boat.
Dreams of pleasure to ensue during leisure.
A whale is performing tricks, why wail of sorrow
Like the many strung out on broken dreams or dreamless?

Someone is hurt.
I shouldn't laugh,
Yet that someone wasn't me.
We need a sport's game to watch that doesn't hurt the playe

Brad Pitt isn't an author because he doesn't know it all.

My tears cannot cry out as a storm or weeping shower.
They stop dead in their tracks, colder than snow,
Whiter than a crystalline stream,
Sorrows frozen amongst the melting.
